

Gardening is the slowest of the performing arts.

Anonymous

Timeline for your Pollinator Garden

Year One

You will choose a location, purchase your plants and plant your flowers as soon as the weather allows. It is important that the root system is well established before winter sets in. Water and weed around your plants. The picture to the right was taken in the Fall, at the end of Year One.

Picture submitted by Roseann Meixelsperger

Year Two

Your plants will continue to grow in size and spread as you enjoy the new blooms. Continue to water, fertilize and weed.

Year Three

Your patience and care will be rewarded. Your plants will continue to grow in size and spread. More and more pollinators will be visiting the banquet table you planted. The picture below is of an established pollinator garden—this is what you have to look forward to!

Picture submitted by Donna Amidon